

New Jersey has strong do-not-call protections that have stopped the abusive telemarketing practices that formerly constantly interrupted my family's scant leisure time and subjected an elderly member of my family to unethical attempts to separate her from her money. I ask you not to negate or weaken this law. Such action would, in the operative language of the current Administration, be evil.